Our Story

We provide materials designed specifically for language learners. Since March 2011, we have been preparing short news articles every working day. Over time, we added other projects that also help students learn languages. Our goal is to help you enjoy reading and listening to English and other languages at a level that is right for you.

The "In Levels" Method

We believe that learning should feel natural, not like hard work. Our special "In Levels" Method" uses a specific set of grammar and vocabulary for each level:

Level 1: Focused on the most common 1,000 words.

Level 2: Focused on 2,000 words.

Level 3: Focused on 3,000 words.

By repeating these words in different stories every day, you can learn and understand English in a more natural way. After a few months of practice, your goal is to move up a level until you can understand native English speakers.

How to Use the Sites

Test your level: Visit www.testlanguages.com.

Start reading: Choose the level that fits your score.

Be consistent: Read one or two new articles and one old article every day to build your memory.
